

**Dear Spacegirl Meme Coin (SPCMC) Holders,**

Firstly, I want to explain that SPCMC was deliberately created to be attractive to professional investors. Our goal is to create generational wealth not just for myself, but for all early adopters of the coin.

To this end, I involved a key individual who established the Spacegirl Investors Group (SIG). This group comprises six high net worth investors and operates from a single wallet.

The SIG and I are legally contracted to remain invested and not sell any tokens until the end of 2025. After that, we may sell up to 10% of our holdings each day, but this is not a requirement.

The SIG has financial targets, and when these are exceeded, an airdrop occurs. This is not purely out of the goodness of their hearts. Firstly, I ensured that excess profit redistribution was built into the contract. Secondly, having all the coins in one huge wallet can make people nervous.

This design, along with spreading the coin to family, will ensure that upon reaching Raydium, around 50% of the coin available will be held by people contracted not to sell. This is a unique feature in memecoin history that should result in the most stable coin Raydium has seen, making it even more attractive to the professional investor class.

Our public target for the end of 2025 is 10 cents per coin. While I cannot discuss our real target, it is much higher. Our 2026 target is positively stratospheric. Currently, the average wallet contains 5.25 million SPCMC. At 1 cent per coin by the end of 2025, this would be worth $52,500.

Currently, early adopters have seen the coin's price rise by 355% in just two weeks. Including SIG airdrops, many investors have doubled or even tripled their money in this short period. We are well on our way to exceeding our targets.

Signed, Spacegirl Dev SPACEGIRL FIGHTS!
